Workforce Development Services

Creating tomorrow's workforce through world class vocational training services

Re-training tomorrow's workforce in high demand occupations

Veteran Owned and Operated Small Business

APSI is a veteran-owned and operated vocational training and consulting service firm headquartered in Charlotte North Carolina. With over 50 years of industry experience, APSI's certified staff can provide cost-effective training and business solutions to employers and students around the U.S.

APSI's customized training courses meet the high demands of our potential employers, academic partners, unemployed and displaced workers. We offer work-ready skills in both technical/non-technical courses.

Each entry-level training program is designed to give the graduate the theory and practical, hands-on application necessary to allow him/her to become successful on the job site. Graduates of an APSI's technical programs can return for advanced courses to enhance their skills and add value to your organization. Our graduates transition from the classroom to the worksite with little to no supervision.

APSI's goal is to develop a "pipeline of professional people" to employers while serving those unemployed, dislocated and military veterans seeking opportunities with great employers.

Training Programs:

- Broadband Technology
- Premise Cabling & Fiber Optics
- Broadband Networking
- Customer Services
- Alternative Energy
- Photovoltaic Installation
- Wind/Thermal/Smart Grid

APSI Courses are accredited and recognized globally.

APSI's training courses are specially designed with the employers, student and community in mind. Our team of executives meet with company leaders to establish training needs in the community and we develop programs tailored to those needs. APSI has relationships with Employment Offices and has access to hundreds of qualified professionals seeking new opportunities. Since we are an approved Training Organization with Workforce Development Boards around the region, most of our students tuition is provided "AT NO COST". Therefore our services with corporate partners is totally "FREE". Ask about additional incentive programs available to companies who hire APSI's graduates.

The Mike Minter Workforce Development Program

Providing area employers with a workforce already trained in the skill sets needed to do the job right!

The Mike Minter WDP was designed by APSI's Executive Leadership to impact communities throughout North and South Carolina by offering high-demand work ready training programs.

Through APSI's Workforce Development Program, this former Carolina Panther of the National Football League has lent his efforts to people in his local community of the Carolinas. As a result, the Mike Minter WDP made its mark through the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA). In addition, APSI's Mike Minter WDP has been quite successful in training and certifying students interested in new technology and has been recognized as a forward thinking organization who is focused on getting the community re-trained and back to work.

Furthermore, the Mike Minter WDP has partnered with academic institutions, Workforce Development Boards and community leaders to deliver "work ready" training as part of a certificate program. Each Mike Minter WDP Course includes certification in a high-demand industry and includes non-degree continued education credits and globally recognized credentials.

This means that the Mike Minter WDP graduates can be provided to you trained, credentialed, confident and ready to go to work. The Mike Minter WDP Team is looking for organizations to partner with so that each graduate has the ability to seek employment with great employers around the region. Most importantly the services you will receive through the Mike Minter WDP is at "NO COST TO YOU."

What is the benefit of working with the Mike Minter WDP?

Employers who work with the Mike Minter WDP receive the same commitment and determination from the team as Mike put in on the football field. Each team member has extensive amounts of corporate level experience in training, staffing, recruiting, managing and developing successful businesses. We take each corporate relationship and develop a custom program that fits your needs.

Employers receive free job postings, applicant recruitment, qualification screening, skill & aptitude testing, employment training, career planning and customer service courses. We can set up a custom placement process for your organization that is seamless and incorporates the necessary decision makers very similar to a staffing agency.

Since the Mike Minter WDP is an approved training organization for the State of NC, SC and TN, our mission is to help get America back to work through helping the unemployed, dislocated workers and military veterans.

What makes us different than a typical staffing firm? Simple, our services are "FREE" to the student and to the employer who participates. Ask an APSI representative about additional tax incentives for hiring graduates from a Workforce Investment Act Program.
